TUESDAY DECEMBER 7, 1909

Mutual love, the crown of all our bliss.—Minton.

To buy Honolulu real estate is like putting money in the bank.

If anyone gets an interview out of Ambassador Calhoun, it will be with a crowbar and a meat axe.

Roosevelt's decision to return in June means that for at least one session of Congress his shots will be from long range only.

Whom wrote a dictionary.—Advertiser.

Certainly. The morning paper's Danny Webster dictionary.

Zelaya appears to have been kind enough to wait until the marines got through with their experiment of going overland in the transport Prairie.

What difference does it make whether Mr. Taft mentioned Hawaii in his San Francisco speech or not, so he does not interfere with our appropriation bills?

Honolulu's new mosquito campaign is a practical move for more perfect sanitation of this city. It should have unanimous support and co-operation when it reaches your back yard.

Reduction of the price of refined sugar in the New York market foreshadows the usual fall in the price of raw sugars as the grinding season approaches its height, and this need cause Hawaii no worry if the weather holds good.

One of the Japanese commissioners states that it is sort of constitutional for the Japanese to refuse aliens the privilege of owning land in Japan. The sooner Americans get the same idea firmly fixed in their system, the better.

Let no one doubt that there will be any lack of appropriations for completing the scheme of making Oahu a great naval base. It is also well to remember that the population brought to Honolulu through this scheme will be permanent.

Three hundred millions for the army and navy is pretty good insurance for the safety of the nation when supported by a few millions that will put the American merchant marine on the waters again in a commanding position.

The disreputable gang engaged in trying to kill off Detective Leal will find him much more alive than Statesman Mahoe, who was so carefully slated for the slaughter that he received the distinction of obituary with photograph.

Refusal of Sheriff Jarrett to reinstate Detective Leal after the vindication given by the Grand Jury is an insult to every decent citizen of Honolulu. It means that there should be a new head in the police department, and the sooner the better, though it may be necessary to await the elections.

"Forget it" would have been the most appropriate phrase for Secretary Baflinger to use in connection with the campaign for suspension of coastwise shipping laws. Had he been sure of his ground he would have "recommended" suspension of the laws to protect domestic shipping, instead of merely suggesting it.

The railways west of the Missouri river are going to make every endeavor to divert winter tourist traffic from Florida to California. How much more work would it take for our local Promotion Committee to put a tail onto that diverting kite and keep the tourists moving till they reached here in additional American steamships put on the route to handle the increased traffic?

Lanai could never have been anything but a useless range for goats and cockroaches had it remained under dual ownership of the Territory and Mr. Irwin. The private owner had the water and held the key to the situation. It was a case of either buy or sell for the Territory and the former owner. Had the Territory elected to buy, as it could have done at a fair figure, it could have presented to prospective planters what private enterprise now offers.

Sheriff Jarrett went into office through votes given him by Republicans. He had the opportunity to make the police department non-partisan, efficient and a sufficient credit to the city and himself to warrant re-election by a walk-over.
His Leal record proves to every Republican that he made a mistake in splitting his ticket, and convinced every supporter of a fair deal regardless of politics that the police department of Honolulu needs a thorough reformation.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO FRIENDS.

San Francisco's Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Exchange of the same city and the Ship Owners' Association of the Pacific Coast have passed resolutions calling on the United States Congress to extend the coastwise shipping laws to the Philippines at once and also to extend these laws, for the protection of domestic trade, to the Panama Canal zone.

These are the organizations on which Hawaii depended for assistance in calling the attention of Congress to the importance of appropriations for Pearl Harbor and the further development of the National program for strengthening American prestige in the Pacific.

Therefore Honolulu people can well understand that these organizations are staunch friends of this Territory, patriotic in their allegiance to everything that has American progress as its object and determined in their purpose to defeat every campaign that may result in favoring aliens at the expense of our own people and our own enterprises.

Regardless of whether it is good judgment to oppose the policies of these formerly friendly organizations of the Pacific coast, what can Hawaii expect to gain from a campaign aimed primarily against domestic shipping and fostering the further prosperity of the alien?

San Francisco leaders realize that their best future rests in the development of American shipping.

There can be no doubt that the guns of our fortifications and the power of the navy that protects this splendid outpost will be of little use unless supported by a strong merchant marine.

To what purpose, then, do our local people desert their own ships and call for further assistance of the alien?

Let us build our own ships to carry our own passengers and freight.

WHY LIVING COSTS MORE.

Henry Clews' banking house in its latest weekly circular moralizes on the increased expense of living.
This is a timely topic, even in Hawaii, whose people with all their prosperity cannot fail to notice that the "living bills" are higher at the end of the month.

The Clews circular states that many complaints are made of the high cost of existence and admits there is "good reason for these complaints, but the fact is they are frequently being made the most of as an excuse for advance in wages."

Then Mr. Clews tells the real reason for the apparent increase in the price of living, namely, that people live more luxuriously. If they would get along in the same old way it would be as pleasant as in the "good old days." The circular says:

"A far more potent element in the increased cost of living that is readily admitted is the extravagance which has become a national characteristic and weakness. This tendency towards extravagance is more evident even in the home than in business or in public affairs, and its effects in the long run cannot but be injurious. Many totally unnecessary amusements and luxuries are now indulged in which were never thought of ten years ago, and the result must be a greatly diminished national saving power, out of which should come our new supplies of Mrs. Post—Do you think you'll smoke when you're old, Johnnie? They say it makes one awfully sick at first.

Johnnie (aged 19)—I don't expect any brother over it, mother. It wasn't the slightest effort for me to learn to swear.—Life.

"Now, Tommy, you must go and wash yourself." "Ma, if you keep on at this washin' business you'll queer me whole vacation."—Century.

INFURIATED BABOON ATTACKS KEEPER

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 17.— Struggling for his life with an infuriated baboon, Fred Wilson, an animal trainer employed by the Don Carlos animal shows, fought desperately for half an hour yesterday with Kokomo, a pink tailed baboon that attacked him in the cage.

The "savage simian" clutched Wilson's throat, but so long as the trainer could keep on his feet he had the best of the fight. At length he fell, exhausted from loss of blood and strain, and the animal gnawed his legs in a frightful manner.

A score of monkeys in the cage kept up a shrill screaming during the fight and this attracted the attention of other employees, who reduced Wilson. Wilson is in a serious condition. His home is in Brazil.

WELLMAN SAYS PEARY IS THE MAN

Washington, Nov. 23.—Commander Robert E. Peary and Walter Wellman, the Arctic explorers, met here tonight for the first time since both of them began their last attempts to reach the north pole.

The occasion was a reception given to Commander Peary by the National Press Club of Washington.

After expressing his pleasure in meeting Peary, Wellman said: "I am glad to greet you as the only man who reached the north pole."

Peary expressed his gratification at this evidence of confidence but made no reference to Dr. Cook.

Macy—Bluffer says he's a very poor sportsman and in whatever game he plays he is always first to get into a hole. Tracy—Bluffer is too modest.
It's not that way when he plays golf.

Theodore Roosevelt has decided to give one of the four elephants killed by himself and son Kermit, to the University of California.

Ma—That young man must be deeply in love with Myrtilla. Did you notice how his voice trembled when he proposed?

HOLIDAY SUGGESTIONS

VOLCANO FIRES ARE BURNING

Manager Kennedy of the Inter-Island Co. could not have selected a better time for an excursion to Hilo and the volcano than New Years eve. He plans to send out the Mauna Kea on the afternoon of Friday, Dec. 31, and bring her back on Monday. This will give the passengers an opportunity to visit the volcano, see the great races which the merchants of Hilo have arranged and attend the opening ball at the Hilo Hotel on the occasion of its reopening. It will be a trip full of pleasure, and no one who can get away should miss it. Persons who do not care to go to the volcano may remain around Hilo and see the sights of the fast-growing city.
Within a short distance is Rainbow Falls and a little further out on the Hamakua road is the famous Onomea arch. People have traveled many miles to see this after being shown a picture of it. It is a rare place and should be seen by all visitors. The extension of the Hilo railway is being built out towards Onomea. The breakwater furnishes food for reflection, and it is not hard to imagine the big vessels that will some day tie up at the docks at Hilo.
